Vulnerability to modern slavery

How vulnerable a country’s people are to modern slavery is dependent on a range of factors which reflect the strength of governance, access to basic needs, inequality, disenfranchised groups, and effects of conflict. On a scale of 0 to 100, with 100 being the highest vulnerability to modern slavery, Australia is rated as 7 and has below average vulnerability for the region. Vulnerability is highest in terms of disenfranchised groups.

Importing risk of modern slavery

Australia imported US$17.4 billion worth of goods at-risk of modern slavery. This includes:

Priority Recommendations for the government of Australia

1

Increase the legal age of marriage for males and females to 18 years without exceptions.

2

Enact legislation recognising that victims should not be treated as criminals for conduct that occurred while under control of their exploiter and ensure the law is enforced.

3

Remove laws or policies that prevent or make it difficult for workers to leave abusive employers without risking loss of their visa, deportation, and/or loss of security deposits.
