Vulnerability to modern slavery

How vulnerable a country's people are to modern slavery is dependent on a range of factors which reflect the strength of governance, access to basic needs, inequality, disenfranchised groups, and effects of conflict. On a scale of 0 to 100, with 100 being the highest vulnerability to modern slavery, Denmark is rated as 6 and has below average vulnerability for the region. Vulnerability is highest in terms of effects of conflict.

Priority Recommendations for the government of Denmark:

- 1 Criminalise forced labour in line with international conventions.
- 2 Remove laws or policies that prevent or make it difficult for workers to leave abusive employers without risking loss of their visa, deportation, and/or loss of security deposits.
- 3 Develop and promote the use of clear national guidelines for identifying and screening victims for all first responders.
