Vulnerability to modern slavery

How vulnerable a country's people are to modern slavery is dependent on a range of factors which reflect the strength of governance, access to basic needs, inequality, disenfranchised groups, and effects of conflict. On a scale of 0 to 100, with 100 being the highest vulnerability to modern slavery, Finland is rated as 5 and has below average vulnerability for the region. Vulnerability is highest in terms of disenfranchised groups.

Priority Recommendations for the government of Finland:

- 1 Criminalise forced labour in line with international conventions.
- 2 Ensure support services are available for all victims of modern slavery, regardless of gender, age, nationality, or sexuality.
- 3 Ensure there is a free reporting mechanism that is available for men, women, and children, and that it operates 24/7 and in multiple languages or can provide immediate access to translators.
